1200 Club View

1200 Club View offers a modern approach to refined and luxurious Southern California living. In close proximity to Beverly Hills and adjacent to the Los Angeles Country Club, this distinctive high-rise luxury tower is designed to become an exclusive and esteemed landmark property in Los Angeles.

With the superb location of 1200 Club View the envy of all Angelinos, this 22-story collection of estates offers residents an unobstructed lifestyle.

For builder Fifiend, the 1200 Club View luxury estates project marks its second development on the famed Wilshire Corridor. Designed by Los Angeles-based architect Richard Keating, the building's sophisticated and fresh approach to urban living has the hallmarks of a future icon.

Because luxurious living means not compromising, residents will enjoy the convenience and amenities of high-rise living plus all the room they could desire. The property will have a maximum of 35 spacious condominiums in two plan layouts. Designs for floors two through 17 offer two condos per floor with an average of 4,100 square feet. In the ultra-luxurious penthouse suites (located on floors 18 through 22), units average more than 8,200 square feet per dwelling. Room interiors feature the finest fixtures, such as Neff cabinets and commercial-grade appliances in the custom kitchens. City, mountain, and ocean views create extraordinary backdrops that enhance graceful interiors.

Privacy, distinctive style, convenience, and a new urban lifestyle reflecting the finest in Southern California: in 1200 Club View, the best of Los Angeles just became even better.
